

Biography:

Melisa F. Galasso, CPA, CPTD

Passionate about providing confidence, not just compliance, Melisa leads Galasso Learning Solutions as Founder & CEO. Melisa is a nationally recognized authority in designing and facilitating courses on advanced technical accounting and auditing topics, including not-for-profit and governmental accounting. Since 2016, she has guided the GLS team to deliver quality in everything we do.

With a far-ranging career in public accounting, academia and industry and a bachelor's degree from Georgetown University, Melisa has built a reputation for delivering engaging, effective learning experiences for CPAs. Committed to advancing our profession, she has served on multiple committees for leading industry organizations including the AICPA and FASB, written the nonprofit accounting book, "Money Matters for Nonprofits," and has been honored with the Top 50 Women in Accounting Award, the Rising Star award from NAWBO Charlotte, and "40 under 40" recognition by CPA Practice Advisor.

In her free time, Melisa loves spending time with her family and can often be found at one of her daughter's horse shows, supporting the arts with tickets to the orchestra, volunteering, or speaking a bit of French or Spanish on one of her treasured quarterly vacations.
